

Concert photography as an art form...

Your parents would have never considered putting a picture of one of these performers on their wall—but then again, they never had the chance. You do.

Front Row is where you will find classic 80's concert photography from Chris Deutsch. Most of the photos were taken in the Denver, Colorado area from 1983 to 1987 at venues such as the Rainbow Music Hall and McNichols Sports Arena.
